PROJECTS

Weather Application

- Built a real-time weather application using JavaScript and a public REST API (e.g., OpenWeatherMap).
- Implemented asynchronous API calls with fetch/promises, JSON data parsing, and dynamic DOM updates.
- Included robust error handling for invalid city inputs and failed API requests.

Keyboard Input Monitor – Security Research Tool

- Built a Python tool that captures keyboard inputs at the OS level to study how input-hooking works on Windows/Linux.
- Used multi-threading to handle background monitoring without impacting system performance.
- Explored how antivirus and endpoint security systems detect process behavior, gaining practical insight into defensive security mechanisms.

CERTIFICATIONS

- Cybersecurity Intern – CODEC TECHNOLOGIES (Practical exposure to network security and vulnerability assessment)
- HTML & CSS Certification – GUVI (Validated proficiency in frontend web development fundamentals)
